

"The spring season is here, bringing the flavors of fire and the abundance of the earth to our table. With the care of local producers and our priority on women's labor, this season, we have once again focused on naturalness and our traditions. As meats and kebabs are carefully cooked over an open flame, they meet fresh vegetables that carry the lightness of summer, allowing you to feel the abundance of Anatolia and the generosity of nature in every bite. Welcome to the season of flavor, peace, and sharing.
